

CLEAR THE SIDEWALKS.

The City Authorities Say the Time Has Arrived When It Shall Be Done.

A Prominent Business Man First to Face the Music and Be Fined.

Result of the Difficulty in the Posey Family—Other Police Court Items.

The city authorities, after deliberation, have concluded that the time has arrived when the sidewalks of Helena should be cleared of their obstructions; that the city has grown to such proportions that the people have use for all the sidewalk space allotted to pedestrians, and that is little enough. A vigorous effort will be made by the city marshal to keep the walks clear of refuse, boxes and other rubbish, which by an act of grace the city has permitted to accumulate in front of certain places. At the instance and complaint of J. W. Hare, F. W. S. Lindsay of the Lindsay Produce company, was arrested yesterday. The complaining witness testified that empty and dirty chicken crates and also barrels of decayed vegetables had frequently been piled in front of his place (which adjoins the produce store) by Lindsay's employees and the sidewalk in front of the store was so crowded as to allow small passageway for one person.

Mr. Lindsay contended that he handled a large amount of goods and had no room entrance to his place and was compelled to use the sidewalk at certain periods of the day; that he paid the city sewerage $15 a month extra to haul off refuse, but that some days the man did not take it all away.

Marshal Hard also testified that the sidewalk had been repeatedly obstructed, and in rebuttal Hare said the piles of old crates and barrels created swarms of flies and an offensive odor, so that he had to pass his nose to escape the smell.

Mr. Stadler, of the firm of Stadler & Kaufman, said the sidewalk, which is eight feet wide, did not belong to the city; it was his property, and remained the court that Mr. Hare should erect his new building took up all the ground belonging to him on Ming street, which leaves that building projecting about eight feet on Ming street. He said he could fence the ground in any time he felt like it, and in view of this, didn't think the city had anything to do with the obstruction of the walk.

City Attorney R. A. Day then read a chapter from the city ordinance, and said the business done by Mr. Lindsay and the neglect of the sewerage "cut no figure"; the fact remained that the sidewalk was obstructed, and it is the duty of the city to keep all sidewalks clear for the use of pedestrians. In the past the city has been lenient on this point, but the time had arrived when the blocking of streets must cease. Neither did the fact that the sidewalk did not own the land in question have anything to do with the case. It is a public walk, and is due the same protection as any other walk.

Judge Sanders considered the evidence sufficient to find Mr. Lindsay guilty of the charge made and he was fined $15, which he paid after deliberating whether he should appeal or not.

The details of this case are given as a warning to others, as the police have their orders to enforce the ordinance covering this point.

The case of Frank Posey, who is alleged to have stolen $50 from a Mrs. Phelps, resulted in the discharge of Posey. Mrs. Phelps is a colored woman, rather good looking. It appears that she and Mr. Posey didn't get along very well together. In the course of events Posey moved to Mrs. Phelps' home, and after remaining there a day or two removed his trunk in the dead hour of night and left Mrs. Phelps alone. The two women then put their hands together and agreed to make it lively for Mr. Posey. It was agreed that Posey had stolen $50 when he took his trunk, and a warrant was issued for his arrest, but Posey had left town. All this happened several months ago. Tuesday, when Posey returned, and was arrested. During the trial the women's tales agreed, but by putting their stories with the testimony of several male witnesses, a chain of convicting evidence could not be woven, so that the judge found the case for a mistrial. The judge was to be a plot to injure poor Posey, who was discharged and the cost taxed to the county.

A police judge has to listen to the trials and troubles of many people, who seek this source for relief, no matter how trivial the trouble may be. Yesterday a woman came to Judge Sanders with a story. She went to an agent and said she desired to rent a house. The agent gave her a key and the woman went to see the house, which suited her. Without informing the agent she immediately moved her furniture in. Meantime, the person whose house the tenant had just vacated, called on the agent and said something detrimental to the character of the woman, and after the latter had been located in her new abode the agent informed her she could not have the house and he would not rent it to her. "I have the key and my household effects are in the house," said the woman, "and what am I going to do?" The judge is still thinking it over.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Captain Keefe and Captain Ramsdell and Their Friends.

The trouble in the Salvation Army will probably be settled to-night, as Brigadier-General Fielding, of the western division, will be in Helena to-night. Capt. Keefe expects to come to the front again. When she was supplanted in the affections of Helena people by little Capt. Ramsdell, she did not obey orders and go the Pacific coast, as was ordered, but has remained here and will continue to remain, probably. Thursday night Capt. Keefe, who still has her say among the boys and girls, got up in meeting and announced that she had been gloriously saved and expected to save everybody in Helena. She said Brigadier Fielding would see that she had her rights. Capt. Ramsdell denied Capt. Keefe's assertion, and said Capt. Keefe was not telling the truth. This raised a terrible commotion and a riot was only averted by one of the army getting up and passing the contribution box among the sinners. Adjutant Harris said Capt. Keefe had lied and deliberately lied.

Several of Capt. Keefe's friends arose and raised merry hallooing and the meeting adjourned. Last night the quarrel was renewed and a sturdy follower of Capt. Keefe arose and said if Capt. Ramsdell or any of her friends said that Brigadier-General Fielding wasn't coming to Helena, they lied, for he had a dispatch which stated that he would be in Helena Saturday night. Capt. Keefe's friends were exuberant and raised the roof with their cheers. There will be a picnic to-night unless there is an executive session.

All kinds of wooden toys have just been received at The Bee Hive.

THEY ARE MARRIED NOW.

Porter and His Colored Paramour Return to Helena Man and Wife.

About a week ago two lovers boarded the Northern Pacific train from this city and left for Phillipsburg. They were E. O. Porter and Miss May "Bloody Knife" Hutton (colored). Porter is the young man who was "vagged" last week and his other offense being escorting the colored prostitute around the west side of town. The couple left Phillipsburg, but not without adding to their troubles. They had some difficulty at the hotel where they stayed and they were unceremoniously bounced from the place, and part of the woman's gaudy wardrobe kept to secure their board bill. Next they hopped up at Deer Lodge and Thursday were made man and wife, and yesterday the bride and groom returned to Helena and resumed their quarters on Grove street.

Officer Vanasse happened on Grove street last night and met young Porter. After exchanging a few words the officer invited the newly-wedded man to take a walk. He walked and went to jail, where a charge of vagrancy was again lodged against him. "Can't a man live in this town?" asked Porter, in despair, and the sergeant told him a man could not live here the way he does, nor could he defy the authorities.

The colored bride soon learned of what had happened to her young hubby, and despairingly exclaimed, "Will my troubles never cease?" Porter is a fairly good-looking young man, probably 24 years of age. He said he lived in Helena about one year. He came here from Fort Custer, where he was a musician in the First cavalry band. He carries a paper of honorable discharge. He has also lived at Lewiston and Fort Macinnis and claims to have worked at the Spotted Horse mine. He is also a singer and dancer, and worked at the Calumet a short time. His latest escapade has shattered what little respect his few friends had for him.

MINES AND MINING.

The Iron Mountain and What It Has Done and Is Doing.

The Iron Mountain mine in Missoula county gives promise of developing into a second Granite Mountain. It was owned by three prospectors, one of whom sold out for a mere pittance, and two of the original owners yet remain shareholders, but no large holders. The Iron Mountain has paid for its development from the grass roots; it was discovered not quite one year ago; it is now developed to a depth of 250 feet and is looking better and richer than it ever did.

About fifteen men are engaged in its development, and twenty tons of ore are being shipped every day to the East Helena smelter and is netting the company from $1,000 to $1,500 per carload. The ore is being extracted more rapidly than it can be shipped away with the present facilities. The first carload of ore ever shipped from the mine netted $1,200. The Iron Mountain company now has in its treasury, it is said, $40,000. This is a credit showing for such a young property, especially when it is considered that no outlay of money has been required. The mine has paid its way in every particular, and the original owners could have done all of the work that has been accomplished. It is said that 100 tons per day could be shipped just as easy as twenty tons if the transportation facilities could be increased.

Besides the $40,000 cash in the treasury, the returns from the smelter, there are 100,000 shares of treasury stock on hand. The original amount of treasury stock was $150,000, and only 50,000 shares have been disposed of, and that went at from 20 to 30 cents a share.

A meeting of the seven directors was to have been held a few days ago for the purpose of considering the matter of declaring dividend No. 1. A quorum could not be secured, one of the directors refusing to attend, for the reason, it is said, that Mr. Pardee, who departed last night for New York, intended to express his opinion of one of the directors who recently displaced him as superintendent of the mine. Another offer will be made to have a meeting next Monday, the 21st inst., when the dividend discussion will come up. Certain of the directors are in favor of declaring a stock dividend of the treasury stock now on hand, while others favor the cash dividend. It is not expected that a dividend of over five cents per share will be declared if the latter proposition prevails, which would amount to $20,000, whereas if the stock dividend is agreed upon the 100,000 shares in the treasury will have to be distributed among 400,000 shares outstanding. The stock is readily worth $1 per share, and such a dividend would be equal to 25 cents per share and a dividend of 10 cents per share could be declared the next time. Believing that the stock dividend will prevail, a lively skirmish is being made for stock, as the more a person holds the more treasury stock he will receive. It is said that Mr. Wells has made an offer of $30,000 out of Iron Mountain since the company was formed and he still holds about 30,000 shares.

L. A. Coquard still persists in kicking, and his latest venture into the field of conversation among mining men yesterday. All that Coquard wants is to be in on the new deal upon the same basis that the syndicate is attempting to secure control of the West Granite properties, and some believe he will yet succeed, while others say he cannot do anything this time.

Word was received yesterday that operations had been actively resumed upon the Major Budd and some activity in the stock at St. Louis is anticipated in consequence.

Ladies should call at Fred Gamers' and get a pair of slippers, as he is selling them at a very low figure.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

The Scandinavian Pleasure club give a dance at Harmon hall to-night.

Deputy Clerk and Recorder Wheaton is busily engaged in making out certificates of election for the county officers-elect.

A block of stone was taken from the Helena granite quarry yesterday which squared 416 cubic feet, about fifty-three tons in weight.

Mr. Sperling, the well-known mining man, was taken to the asylum yesterday. He grew quite violent while in the court house, imagining he was beset by robbers who were endeavoring to steal the fortune he imagines he possesses.

The bargain house of Montana is The Bee Hive and don't you forget it.

"From Sire to Son." Milton Nobles and his company open their engagement Monday in "From Sire to Son," and it is safe to say that Ming's opera house will be crowded during the four night's engagement of this popular actor, whose fifteen years' continuous acting on the mimic stage has won him fame and fortune. He will also produce "Phonix" and "Love and Law." Sale of seats begins this morning at Pope & O'Connor's drug store.

MINING PATENTS RECEIVED

Patents for Quartz Lode and Placer Claims Issued From Washington.

Silver Bow, Lewis and Clarke, Jefferson and Deer Lodge Favored.

They Will be Delivered to the Owners Upon the Return of Duplicate Receipts to Helena.

Another batch of mineral patents was received at the Helena land office yesterday. As will be noticed these patents have been standing about two years and their receipt at the time is quite prompt, as owing to the red tape which has characterized the doings of the land office in the past years, if a patent was received within five years after it was applied for the applicant felt that he was fortunate. Nearly all the desert land, pre-emption, homestead and cash patents that have been applied for up to 1888 have been examined and patents issued.
